In this heartwarming and hilarious memoir, funeral director Bob Gunther shares his experiences from a lifetime of working with the dead. From the poignant to the absurd, Gunther has seen it all, and he tells his stories with a disarming honesty and wit that will make you laugh and cry.

Gunther's stories are filled with unforgettable characters, from the elderly woman who insisted on being buried with her pet parrot to the family who wanted to have their loved one's ashes turned into a diamond. Gunther's compassion and humor shine through in every story, and he shows us that even in the face of death, there is always room for laughter.

You've Never Met a Dead Person You Didn't Like is a celebration of life and death, and a reminder that even in our darkest moments, we can find joy and laughter.
